Services Were Monday For Mrs. Elizabeth Gruetzmacher, 88

Funeral services were held Monday at the Klemme Methodist Church for Mrs Elizabeth Gruetzmacker, 88, who passed away Friday.

The Rev Melvin Miller, pastor of the Klemme Methodist Church, officiated. Interment was at the Ell Township Cemetery.

Elizabeth Maria Stille was born in Detmolt, Missouri on May 20, 1870 to Henry and Louisa Stille. Her parents operated a cereal mill, lumber mill and wool carding operation which they sold when she was aged four, then the family of three daughters and three sons moved to Hancock County on a farm, which included the tract of land occupied by the Liberty Methodist Church.

Her early affiliation with the Methodist Church was pleasant experience for her. She was active in church, Sunday School, choir, and aid societies. Her devotion to her home and family, coupled with her church, made her life complete.

In 1893 she united in marriage with Franklin Gruetzmacher to which union four children were born. Two sons died in infancy. A daughter, Glenna, and a son, Herald, both of Des Moines, Ia., survive. Her husband passed away in 1938 while they were residents of Klemme, Ia., where they had operated a store for forty-six years.

She spent the last sixteen years of her life with her daughter, a teacher in the Des Moines schools. For many years her motion and activity have been impaired by rheumatoid arthritis. She had been under hospital and nursing care for two years and nine months, but the extreme inactiv- had been bedfast.

The painfulness of her affliction seemed to subside in the latter months but the extreme inactivity to one who had been so active was difficult to accept.

A lung affliction became apparent on the Sunday preceding her death. She passed away at 2:30 Friday, January 23, 1959.

Surviving beside her son and daughter is a brother, John Stille, and a sister, Emma (Mrs John Terhufen) both of Klemme. She was preceded in death by brothers, William F. and Herman Stille and a sister, Minnie (Mrs Ernest Schuldt).

Merlyn Olson to be Editor of The Klemme Times

Will Begin With Next Week's Issue

Merlyn K Olson, who has been employed at The Times Office since his high school days, has entered into a lease agreement with L E "Pete" Kilgore, and effective February 2nd, will be editor and publisher of The Klemme Times.

In our opinion, Merlyn is qualified to take over the operation of the paper and the commercial printing department that goes with it. He is a graduate of the Klemme High School, knows everyone in the community, likes the business, and has shown a fine aptitude for it. He is a careful and conscientious workman and will do his best to give Klemme a paper of which to be proud.

Except for a three year hitch in the army, Merlyn has been in our employ since he was a sophomore in high school, and we know of no one to whom we would rather turn over the operation of The Times.

We hope that you will see fit to give him the opportunity to serve you, and we hope that all of you will continue to be readers of The Klemme Times.

* *

The readers of The Klemme Times will remember reading an article which appeared on the front page two weeks ago, stating that I had left Klemme and was employed in a newspaper in Washington. After a short stay, in fact very short, I returned and now find myself facing the editorial job of The Klemme Times.

When I first began working for The Times, I often wondered if some day I would take over and edit this paper. I know the job ahead of me will require a lot of effort and hard work but it will be worth it to give Klemme the newspaper it should have.

Except for my three years in service, I have been employed by L E Kilgore since 1952. I know a person could never find a better employer than he and I have enjoyed working for him very much. During my time of employment at The Times I have gained much knowledge from the printing industry. A person can't say that he knows everything there is about printing because he is always finding out something which he didn't know before.

I feel very fortunate to have this chance to operate a business establishment in my home-town and hope that the readers of The Times will enjoy it as I will enjoy publishing the paper for you.

Don't forget that if you have had something exciting or strange happen, or if it's the daily news happenings, phone it to LU7-2140.

—Merlyn Olson

CAPITOL LETTER

(Weekly news release of the Iowa Press Association. The material contained herein does not necessarily conform to the editorial policy of this newspaper.)

Marchi Fired

State treasurer M L Abrahamson has dismissed George Marchi as director of the motor vehicle fuel tax division. Abrahamson also fired five other employees of the gas tax division.

Abrahamson said he dismissed Marchi "for failure to perform the duties assigned to him." Both Abrahamson and Marchi are Republicans.

A recent audit by the state auditor's office was critical of the treasurer's office for failure to collect gasoline taxes due the state. The audit also said the working relationship between Abrahamson and Marchi was far from accord and agreement.

Abrahamson also requested State Auditor C B Akers to assign an auditor full time to the gasoline tax division.

Gas Tax Probe

Governor Herschel Loveless (D), has launched an investigation of the state gasoline tax division under a law covering "suspension of state officers."

The law provides that the governor shall, "when of the opinion that the public service requires such action, appoint, in writing, a commission of three competent accountants. . .they shall examine the books, papers, vouchers, moneys and documents of any state officer, board or commission. . ."

Governor Loveless has named Albert Augustine, Des Moines, and Clifford Rugger, Mason City, both certified public accountants, and Dean Sidney Winters of the college of commerce at the State University of Iowa, also a CPA, to make the investigation.

Earlier the governor had asked for an appropriation of $15,000 to conduct a full scale audit of the tax division The governor has now dropped that request. Immediately after Marchi was fired the governor had state agents assigned as guards over gas tax records.

Republicans were holding a joint senate-house caucus when word of the governor's action reached them. The Republicans had just adopted a resolution in the caucus pointing out to the governor that he should use this particular law pertaining to the three accountants rather than steps outlined previously.

This law provides the vehicle the governor should have used in the first place, declared Republican house floor leader Clark McNeal (R), Belmond. "There is no need for a $15,000 appropriation. This law provides for an 'open end' amount."

Gas Story

George Marchi, discharged director of the gas tax division, claims a member of the Republican state central committee tried last summer to keep him from giving reporters stories about the department.

Marchi said Art Donhowe, Des Moines banker and member of the GOP state central committee, took him to lunch one day last summer. "He said that the only thing Abrahamson objected to was that I was giving things to the press. He wanted me to quit it, but I told him I thought the press had a right to know what was going on in the department if anything was," Marchi said.

Abrahamson said at one time he had asked Marchi to "clear" with him any news stories he was giving to the press so that he he (Abrahamson) would be able to answer any questions he was asked about them. The state treasurer denied he was trying to withhold information about the department from the public.

Donhowe said that Marchi had telephoned him last summer and asked to see him. Donhowe said he arranged to meet Marchi and take him to lunch. Donhowe said Marchi wanted some advice. "He wanted to know if it would be proper for him to give a statement to the press," Donhowe said. "I told him that as an individual he could say anything he wanted to at any time." Donhowe said Marchi asked, "What if it pertained to his employer or his employer's office? I asked him how he would expect such a matter to be handled if he were the employer. He indicated that the only proper thing to do was to have the employer rather than the employee make the statement for the office."

GOP Meeting

The eyes of the nation turned to Des Moines last week as representatives from six major cities made an appearance before a committee which will select the site of the 1960 Republican national convention.

The six cities bidding for the convention were Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York and Miami Beach.

Meade Alcorn, Republican national committee chairman, said the fact that the Democrats have already selected Los Angeles will make no difference in the Republican choice.

Representatives from the three major television networks also appeared before the committee to discuss communication problems in conjunction with the presidential convention.

In addition to the meeting of the site committee, the GOP had a full meeting of its national committee

Needham Dead

The state superintendent of printing, Sherman Needham, died at his desk at the statehouse last week. He was 77.

Needham, who had held down the post of state superintendent of printing since 1942, collapsed while talking to George Marchi about a printing job for the motor vehicle fuel tax division. Death was due to a heart attack.

Needham became associated with his father in publication of the Keokuk County News in 1903. Later he moved to Eldora as editor-publisher of the Ames Milepost in 1931. Needham sold that paper, not now published, after he was named state printing superintendent.

He was named a master editor-publisher by the Iowa Press Association in 1943.

Contest Out

An election contest board of three district judges has dismissed the contest by Don Wilson, (D), West Des Moines, of the reelection of Attorney General Norman Erbe, (R), Boone.

The board declared the bond filed by Wilson did not comply with the law and therefore the board did not have the jurisdiction to hear the matter.

Wilson was defeated by Erbe in the Nov. 4 general election by 2,032 votes. The West Des Moines attorney said he will appeal the ruling to the state supreme court.

Hall Of Fame

Both the house and senate of the Iowa legislature have passed a resolution which provides that the state of Iowa will provide a suitable location for an agricultural hall of fame if Iowa is selected as the site or the national shrine. The Des Moines- Ames area is one of three sites being considered for the hall of fame.

We Iowa Workers Benefit, too...

"When it comes to creating more jobs and adding to our income, I say 'hats off' to the brewing industry here in Iowa. Last year alone, we workers who are employed by the industry in this state had payrolls of over thirty million dollars! That's big money in any man's language . . . and it helps boost Iowa prosperity just that much more.

...and more benefits

"In addition, we Iowans get lots of other benefits from the distribution and sale of beer, the light, bright beverage of moderation. Over twenty-three million dollars a year which the industry pays in taxes, for instance . . . and over sixty-two millions it has invested here in Iowa. Just any way you look at it . . .

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

First Grade News

The month of January is here and we are thinking about cold weather and the snow. At this time there may not be too much snow outside but on the inside we tried to make our room look like winter.

We have made white lacy looking snowflakes, Mr and Mrs Snowman made from filter disks and construction paper, and winter snow scenes using a white crayon. We also made a mural showing us the many sights we would see on a winter day.

We are enjoying the library books which we can read all by ourselves. Each of us has a record of the books we have read and some of us have nine or ten books so far.

We are advancing a step farther in numbers because we are learning the basic background for adding and subtracting. We think it is fun and are doing very well in this work.

Marian Lau, Julia Lauer, and Ray Waddingham have returned their dental cards. Nine boys and six girls have returned their dental cards so far this year.

We had two birthdays last week. Grant treated us on his seventh birthday with cupcakes. Tom had a birthday party at his house for his classmates on Friday. We had a nice time at his party.

VARIED COLUMN

The high school of Klemme wishes to welcome a new student, Betty Lauden. She came to us from the Belmond School. Welcome again, Betty, and we hope that you like it around K.H.S.

Next Saturday night, January 31, the senior class is sponsoring a pancake supper.. We will begin serving at 5:30. The price for the sixth grade and under is 50¢ and for Junior and Senior High and Adults is 75¢. The money will go toward the senior's skip day. So come one come all not only to help the seniors but to satisfy your hunger. We will put up ads in the stores telling the remaining details.

What's this about Gary getting stopped in Mason City? It just wasn't your lucky day was it, Gary?

Then, too, we heard that Donald Anderson had a little trouble with his car. Just how did this happen, Don?

The weather looked rather bad last Tuesday night and everyone was hoping there wouldn't be school the next day. But sadly enough we weren't that fortunate.

"Turn the furnace up" was a familiar saying in school for a couple of days. It seems that the furnace was rather reluctant when it came to giving off some heat so it was finally shut off so some repair work could be done.

In the English department there are special assignments being given. The juniors and seniors have to make a research paper. The sophomores have a personal essay to write and the freshmen have to write a short story suitable for children. We wish everybody luck as they write these.

There are distant rumbles concerning a senior class play. Mrs Lewis has some ideas but give us time to let them materialize.

Recently Jane and Roxy had some teeth pulled. Good way to have a vacation but it was painful, too. Right?

Next Wednesday we will get out of school at 2:45 p.m. Everbody will look forward to this, I'm sure.

The senior science boys need some congratulations on their projects. Ronald, Bob, and Gaylon made a step down transformer. Jerry made a buzzer while Marlin made a door chime. After that Marlin and Bob also made Crystal Radios which worked.

ADDED INCENTIVE FOR BETTER SCHOLARSHIP

As an added incentive for better scholarship the Klemme Jr. and Sr. high school students will be excused from taking the semester examinations the second semester of this year providing they have an average of B or better in the subject for the 18 weeks period. The deportment of the students to be exempted from taking the examinations must be satisfactory to the teacher excusing them otherwise they will be required to take the examination.

This is more or less on a trial basis this semester and if it proves to be an incentive for better scholarship it will be the policy next year.

HOMEMAKER OF TOMORROW

Our school's 1959 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is Cozette Lau. She received the highest score in a 50-minute written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating senior girls. She received a homemaking pin manufactured by Josten's, which represents the slogan, "Home is Where the Heart Is." Cozette's paper will be entered in competition with the papers of other school winners in the state. The winner of the test, which is designed and judged by Science Research Associates, will be named Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Cozette was a winner among 12,260 schools throughout the nation. The senior girls enrollment was estimated at 349,150 in those schools.

Each state Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, an educational trip April 4-10 with her school advisor to Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., New York City and Minneapolis, and also each winner will be a candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Each girl's school will receive a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. General Mills will also award a $500 scholarship to each state runner-up.

The All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced in Minneapolis April 10 at the American Table Dinner in the Leamington Hotel's "Hall of States." The scholarship of the winner will be increased to $5,000. The runner-up will receive $4,000 grant, the third place winner a $3,000 award and fourth place winner a $2,000 scholarship.

We want to congradulate Cozette and wish her the best of luck in the state contest!

SENIOR INTERVIEW

This week our interview is Gary Kothenbeutel, who has been with us since our first day of primary.

Gary, recently known as "Speedy", participated in the following activities in high school: Baseball,1; Track, 1,2,3,4; Basketball, 1,2; Shamrock Staff, 4.

Following graduation, Gary plans to work in Klemme this summer and next fall will either join the service—to get it over with—or enroll in a small college.

As an extra tip—Gary advises you boys to take extra money along with you when driving—especially if you have a heavy foot!

PERFECT ATTENDANCE TAKES DROP

There are somewhat fewer students having perfect attendance at the end of the first semester than there was the first nine weeks but considering the amount of illnesses the attendance has been very good. The class having the fewest absenses this nine weeks was the 10th grade again, but they were tied with the 11th grade who also had only 10 absences. Considering the fact that there are 26 students in the junior class and 21 in the sophomore class the juniors have a better pupil record. The seventh grade and the ninth grade tied for the most absences with 36 each. We are having too many tardinesses! Are you still going to have perfect attendance at the end of the next nine weeks?

Perfect attendance to date is as follows:

7th Grade

Glen Alden, Douglas Bertilson, Sheryl Brekke, Kathryn Gast. Russell Hanson, Zelda Heginger, and Herschel Lemke.

Pamela Lemke, Mary Alice Lyons, Richard Meints, Karen Nuehring, Kathrine Olthoff, Celeste Schaefer, and Donna Stille.

EDITORIAL

We were desperately in need of an editorial so we had everyone in the senior class pass in a sentence. Here is the results.

Report cards have their place—they just haven't dug it yet. Report cards are coming out today—too bad it didn't snow more. I guess the report cards are coming out today. I know what mine will look like. The second semester has begun, so you had better get on the stick and work for a change if you want your diploma scratched on! Now that the semester has started I can loaf for four or five weeks.

It's snowing out. It's cold and sunny outside today. Sure wish it would snow so we wouldn't have school, than I could maybe get my research theme started. Oh well! No such luck. just can't win any more. It's too bad we didn't have a blizzard. The streets are really slippery in town. Aren't they!

Daryl, you had better be more careful making those corners by the park, when there's snow on the roads.

I sure hope, when graduation comes, I will get a signed diploma and will have lost several pounds Oh, if it could only be the the last week in May! Love those diplomas!! I will sure be glad when school is out. I wish school was out, summer was here and I passed.

I hope Mr Barrick is busy so Dorothy can eat her lunch in study hall.

I wish I'd get a different typewriter in typing class, the one I have to use is about SHOT!!

Wouldn't it be nice if Gary could read speed signs. I wonder, has Myrna had any more sore feet lately?

I can't think of anything so I will just sign my name.

BOYS' SPORTS NEWS

If you want a variety of shots we have what you are looking for, everything from lay-ups to last second long shots.

In the Kanawha game we had one of those long shots by Jerry Stokesbary. Incidently this long shot went in, in case you were wondering about it. We knew you didn't practice faithfully every night for nothing. We think Jerry deserves a pat on the back, don't you?

"TAKE TIME"

Take time to live; it is one secret of success.
Take time to think; it is the source of power.
Take time to play; it is the secret of youth.
Take time to read; it is the foundation of knowledge.
Take time for friendship; it is the source of happiness.
Take time to laugh; it helps to lift life's load.
Take time to dream; it hitches the soul to the stars.
Take time for God; it is life's only last investment.

A human being is a chap who will split his sides over the family album and then look in the mirror without cracking a smile.

Patricia: "I must tell you, darling. I'm engaged to Frank."

Felicia: "I'm not surprised, dear. When I turned him down last week he said he didn't care what became of him."

Highway Story

By Bob Hullihan

It was one of those days when winter slumps into mud, slush and damp dragging winds. It was a day that made Fred think he might be in the wrong business.

All morning he had been fighting mushy roads around the edges of an Iowa city. The worst of it was that he had to jump out of his car every five minutes or so and slop through the mud to knock on someone's door.

When his likable manner and well-known product got him inside a house he usually gave his sales talk standing on papers spread out by the housewife.

A couple of times that morning, when invited to sit in the living room, he had to slip off his shoes and try to look business-like in his stocking feet.

Early in the afternoon, he gave it up and headed back to the paved portions of the town. Gobs of mud plastered his shoes. He had quit trying to scrape it off each time he got in the car.

So, the mud of the morning went with him as he drove across town. It wasn't done with him yet.

Fred drove up to an intersection and prepared to come to a rousing stop. He jammed his muddy foot on the brake pedal that was worn through to the metal.

His foot slipped off the brake and the car popped out into the traffic flow. Fred was finally out of the mud. He spent the next two weeks in a hospital.

The Why Of High Quality Soil

We, in the county as well as the nation, depend directly on our soil to produce practically all of our natural resources. One of our No. 1 products is our food which is the fuel of our bodies to keep it alive. The right quality of this food is recommended to give us the needed minerals and vitamins to keep our bodies strong and healthy. In order for us to reap these high quality food products, we must have high quality soils, because it can only produce the quality of products it is capable of producing. Depleted soils through erosion, over cropping and other mismanaged practices causes the bacteria, the humus, and the many necessary fertilizer elements to disappear. They all go together to increase the quality of the soil. Our soil is alive, for without its bacteria, the soil would be dead, resulting in poor crops or in some cases none at all.

There are indeed ways of curing our sick soils: A good rotation to give the soil a rest and to build up its humus, a highly needed element in our soil. Proper soil tests to replenish our soils with the needed fertilizers that we lose when selling our products off the farms. Good sound, practical and economical soil and water conservation practices are needed to help keep our soil in place from wind and water erosion. These are some of the many ways we increase the yeild and quality of our products and increase the quality of our soils. Our stride towards this goal truly increases the health and welfare of our people and nation, and assures our future generations who will follow us, a happy and more prosperous life.

Your Soil Conservation District of Hancock County with its assistance of the Soil Conservation Service is always awaiting your request to assist you free of charge. They will suggest and recommend many ways of helping you to use each acre of your agricultural land within its capabilities and the treatment of each acre of agricultural land in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement.

Talking TV with Ed Brozik

A HI-FI VILLAIN

Picking up outside signals . . . radio, TV, hams . . . is perhaps the most disturbing thing that can happen to listeners of high fidelity equipment. In most cases with the proper meters, the trouble is easy to find, usually being loose or poor connections in the set. But sometimes a situation can be baffling.

One case in which a hi-fi set picked up radio signals, we spent hours at GARNER TV & APPLIANCE tightening connections, rechecking circuits and the final idea of wrapping some lead wires with tinfoil solved the problem. The radio signals disappeared.

Actually, engineers call the working out of this kind of a problem a phenomena because nobody agrees on the theory of correction. But whatever the reason, it solved the trouble.

You too, when you phone 371 at Garner for electronic services, can be sure of results. We guarantee it. Ask your neighbor about us.

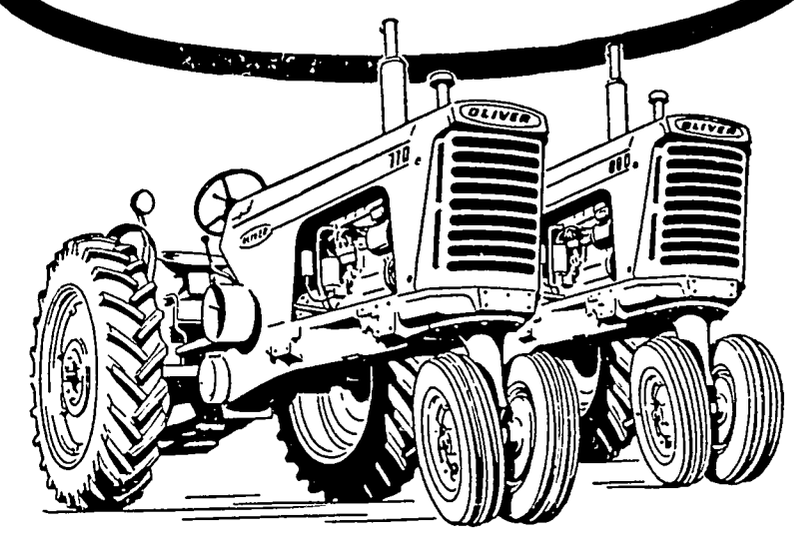
Powerful New Pair!
OLIVER 770 and 880
Row-Croppers



Put new life into your farming with a new Oliver —3-4 plow 770 or 4-5 plow 880. They're spanking new in looks, in design, in feel.

They put more power to work—in practical new ways. Big, high-speed engines give you more drawbar horsepower than ever—well over the 50 mark in the 880. A new Power-Booster Drive gives you 12 forward speeds and almost one-third more pull for the tough spots—on the go.

In plowing, Oliver's new Power-Traction Hitch transfers extra weight to the rear wheels, keeps you going at full speed. Powerjuster wheels take the work out of changing tread, and power steering makes every maneuver easier.

Come in and see these powerful new Olivers, now in bright new meadow green and clover white. Feel their power, too, and learn how it can help you boost farm profits.
